

Bayesian Investment Management

Privacy Policy

Introduction

Bayesian Investment Management is committed to safeguarding the use of personal information of our clients that we obtain as your Investment Adviser, as described here in our Privacy Policy (“Policy”).

Our relationship with you is our most important asset. We understand that you have entrusted us with your private information, and we do everything that we can to maintain that trust. Bayesian Investment Management protects the security and confidentiality of the personal information of our clients and implements controls to ensure that such information is used for proper business purposes in connection with the management or servicing of our relationship with you.

Bayesian Investment Management will never sell your non-public personal information to anyone. Nor do we provide such information to others except for discrete and reasonable business purposes in connection with the servicing and management of our relationship with you, as discussed below.

Details of our approach to privacy and how your personal non-public information is collected and used are set forth in this Policy.

Why you need to know?

Registered Investment Advisers (“RIAs”) must share some of your personal information in the course of servicing your account. Federal and State laws give you the right to limit some of this sharing and require RIAs to disclose how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

What are some of the personal information we may collect from you?

The personal information we collect from you includes but not limited to the following; (i) Contact Information (name, legal address and phone numbers, email and mailing address), (ii) Date of birth,

(iii) Social Security or Taxpayer Identification Number, (iv) Personal Assets and Liabilities (investment accounts, savings accounts, checking accounts, mortgage etc.), (v) Personal Identification (copy of driver's license, passport, etc.), (vi) Employment Information (including annual income and salary), (vii) Investment experience and goals

How do we protect your information?

To safeguard your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we maintain a combination of physical, procedural and electronic security measures. These include such safeguards as secure passwords, encrypted file storage and a secure office environment. Our technology vendors provide security and access control over personal information and have policies over the transmission of data. All personnel at Bayesian Investment Management are trained on their responsibilities to protect client's personal information. We require all third parties that assist in providing our services to you to protect the personal information they receive from us.

See the attached Information Security Policy for our detailed policies and procedures on information security.

What Personal Information do we share with non-affiliate third parties?

Bayesian Investment Management may share certain personal information of our clients with a third party for us to effectively implement our services to serve our clients needs. The following are some the reasons and circumstances we may share your information with a third party.

1. Servicing our Clients

- With the consent of the client, the Adviser may share non-public personal information with non-affiliated third parties (such as broker-dealers, custodians, and other service providers) as necessary to provide the agreed upon services to the client. Sharing will occur only as consistent with existing applicable federal and or clients' resident state laws and regulations. The Adviser may share personal information with the above-referenced parties for account opening, processing transactions, account maintenance; and other client service activities.

Bayesian Investment Management may share the following types of information with the above-referenced parties: Name, Address and Phone Numbers, E-mail Address, Driver's License Number, Social Security or Taxpayer Identification Number, Date of Birth, Assets and Liabilities, Income and Expenses, Investment Activity, and Investment Experience and Goals.

- The client may also request that the Adviser share non-public personal information with other individuals and businesses. Prior to such sharing, the Adviser will require an executed letter of authorization from the client for each authorized party. The client may revoke these authorizations at any time via a verbal or written notice to us.

- The client may limit sharing of the above-referenced information. However, limiting the sharing of this information could also limit the Adviser's ability to perform the services outlined in the client's agreement with the Adviser.

2. Response to Regulatory Inquiries

Bayesian Investment Management may be required by securities regulators to provide non-public personal information in connection with audits and other inquiries.

Sharing Clients Information About Former Clients

Bayesian Investment Management does not disclose and does not intend to disclose, non-public personal information of our clients to non-affiliated third parties with respect to persons who are no longer our clients, except for inquiries by securities regulators as noted above.

Sharing Clients Information for Marketing Purposes

Bayesian Investment Management does not disclose, and does not intend to disclose, personal information with non-affiliated third parties for marketing purposes. Certain laws may give us the right to share your personal information with financial institutions where you are a customer and where Bayesian Investment Management or the client has a formal agreement with the financial institution. We will only share your information for purposes of servicing your accounts, not for marketing purposes.

Changes to our Privacy Policy

We will send you a copy of this Policy annually for as long as you maintain an ongoing relationship with us. Periodically we may revise this Policy and will provide you with a revised Policy if the changes materially alter the previous Privacy Policy. We will not, however, revise our Privacy Policy to permit the sharing of non-public personal information other than as described in this notice unless we first notify you and provide you with an opportunity to prevent the information sharing.

Any Questions?

You may contact us with any questions or concerns with regards to our Privacy Policy, as well as obtain a copy of our current Privacy Policy by contacting us at (540) 676-3975.
